Our people will have the following fields description:

- Age.
- Qualification: high / medium / low.
- Marital status: married / single / couple.
- Main interest: science / literature / sport.
- Social rank: high / medium / low.

2 Links between people

We want to express the following relationship between people:

- Father / mother, son / daughter.
- Sibling.
- Cousin.
- Couple, married, sex friend.
- Bad emotional relationship and good emotional relationship.
- Friend.
- Enemy.
- Competitor.

3 Behaviours of the people

- Subscribe / unsubscribe.
- Connect / disconnect.
- Get a new job.
- Start a new sport.
- Go to a new club (or any social place).
- Become crazy (unfriendly).
- Become someone with a lot of money (or power).

4 Different scenarios

- You are on a social network and you become somebody with a lot of money or/and power. Many people want to become your fiends, thus they subscribe to the social network you are using to try to know you better. Or similarly, but you are already a powerful person and you join a social network, making other people joining it.
- You have a new job and other employees are all on a social network. Thus you join it.
- You decide to go out at a new social place ("cercle", night club,...) where you meet a nice girl. She wants to add you as friend on her social network. Thus you subscribe.
- You have a serious accident, your brain becomes defective. You begin to write anything to your friends on your favorite social network. Everybody removes you from their friends. Being alone, you leave the network.
- You behave scandalously in parties and people don't stop tagging you in shameful pictures. You are afraid this might lead to a loss of credibility in your professional environment and decide to leave the network.
